Band Updates!

Hello Band Parents!

I hope everyone is staying healthy and safe during this very crazy time! In this newsletter, I'll let you know of some band resources to get your student playing their instrument and most importantly...include a picture of my new kitten 😊

Band Resources

- angeloband.weebly.com
- This is my class website that I created and it has lots of resources available on the RESOURCES tab. I've uploaded some more content since our online learning has started. Please check it out!
- Smart Music
- This is a website/app that students are able to find our book online and practice any line they like. They can change tempo, they can hear what it sounds like, they can record themselves and get instant feedback on accuracy! It's a really great resource...especially for those students that forgot their book at school 😊 I highly recommend using it as it is normally a subscription based app and is free through the summer! Please use the information below to check it out!!

Go to this link:

and then enter my class code:

Don't forget that you will need to search for our book in order to get to it! Sound Innovations for Concert Band

- Band Karate
- Don't forget that students can still call in Band Karate numbers and work through the belts! I've had a student finish their Black Belt while we're in our online learning! I will email the parents of the students that call in to let them know how they did on their band karate!

MEET LUCY!!

I decided this was the perfect time to add a four legged edition to my house.

Meet Lucy!!

(Named after a certain Beatles song)

She is a 6 month old Siamese mix kitten. She's got pretty blue eyes and a pretty feisty (but sweet) personality.

So far she has been having fun with the laser pointer, toy mice, feather toys, wands and chasing her tail 😊

As always, thank you for reading through the information! Please contact me with any questions!

I hope you stay safe, keep learning and keep playing instruments!!!!

Musically,

Kimberlyn Angelo
